COMING EVENTS.

The address before the bar association at the court house during "motion hour," nine to ten o'clock, Saturday morning, by Judge Holloway, former member of Indiana and New York State Bar Associations and former member of the Indiana legislature.

Don't forget the big parade next Monday night. Further announcements later.

Today is Mother's Day. Wear a red carnation if Mother is alive. If she is dead, wear a white carnation in memory of her great love.

MOTHER

A sweet and solemn strain of love
Came floating o'er the summer air,
And, as I listened there, I heard
The echoes of a mother's prayer.
The trees caught up the pleading tones,
And in their leaves gave fervor rare
To those few words—till all the world
Was awed by that sweet mother's prayer.
And so, no matter where we go,
Or vast and brave the deeds we dare,
The Power that guides our steps at last
Is born of mother's earnest prayer.

—J. M.

The spirit militant as well as the spirit military thrilled the audience of twenty-five hundred persons who attended the services at the Lyon tabernacle last night. Not only were the grizzled heroes of many a bloody siege attendant in uniform and the wives who stayed at home during the long, anxious months—but there was evident the spirit of the victor in a siege far greater than all earthly battles—the spirit of Christ, who gained the victory over Death and sin that this world might have the assurance of a salvation if it would accept Him. The tottering footsteps of the old soldiers seemed to intensify the realization that mankind is never far from his eternal threshold to glory in point of years, and the wavering voices of the men who had proved loyal to their nation impelled more than one man and woman in the audience to make a definite consecration of his life to the great cause of Right. Nearly half a hundred persons confessed their belief in their personal Saviour and allied themselves against the opposing enemies of our national and personal lives.

The opening song service, conducted by Prof. R. E. Mitchell, was filled with an enthusiasm that can only be aroused by the participation in any event of the men who fought and bled for their country's sake. Our patriotism is of a type that delights in cheering the pedestal of our national affection, albeit that we fail, at times, to support our honest convictions by better adherence to these principles. The visiting delegations, comprising fully two hundred and fifty members of the Old Guard, G. A. R. and various auxiliary patriotic organizations, and nearly one hundred and fifty members of the local and Granville divisions of the King's Daughters, arrived at the tabernacle a few minutes after seven o'clock. With their banners flying and the chorus singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," these soldiers of war marched down the aisles in solemn reverence to the Prince of Peace. Members of Company B, of the Old Guard, preceded the delegations and were accorded seats well toward the front of the building.

As soon as the audience had been properly seated, Prof. Mitchell asked the children's chorus to sing their special number, a rousing militant song with the chorus of the "Red, White and Blue." This chorus was joined in by the members of the mammoth platform choir, and while Sam Madera, standard bearer of the Old Guard, waved the emblem of the free, it was accorded a Chautauqua salute by the hundreds throughout the building.

"Marching Through Georgia."
"Say fellows, what do you want to sing?" suddenly asked Prof. Mitchell, and from the ranks of the G. A. R. came the reply "Marching Through Georgia."

The director was "stumped" for the moment, but finally with the aid of the choir members, remembered how the verse and chorus sounded and the inspiring melody was soon ringing in the ears of the veterans that must have reminded them of the wearisome days "from Atlanta to the sea."

"The Battle Cry of Freedom," was another of the songs of war times that appealed to the visiting patriots, while the tender melody of "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," sung by a double quartette of local singers, brought a glistening tear coursing down the furrowed cheek of many a soldier.

The opening prayer of the evening was offered by Rev. J. Morrison Thomas, of the Plymouth Congregational church, and was an eloquent plea for the consecration of lives and the pouring out of the Holy Spirit upon the actions of men. Recognizing the presence of the delegations from Granville and the surrounding sections Dr. Thomas delivered the closing half of his prayer in the Welsh language, his native tongue, and there were fervent expressions of "Amen" from all parts of the building as he closed his plea with his Almighty Father.

The scripture lesson was read by Judge Holloway, from the fourth chapter of 2nd Timothy, from the first to the eighth verses and as soon as Dr. Lyon's assistant had resumed his seat on the platform, Dr. J. M. Thomas again appeared before the audience with a copy of Dr. Lyon's book, "The Lordship of Jesus," and which he commended to the attention of Newark's reading public.

Lyon's Book a Portrait.
His argument was carried very aptly in the story of two Welsh preachers who met in a church in Cincinnati in 1893.

"Williams," said one to the other, as he handed over a volume. "That's my book. Say something about it."

Williams did so, telling his audience that "Brother Evans had written a book. It's a very fine book. It's title is anatomy and I notice on the front page a very fine photograph of the author."

Evans became very much disturbed, and said, "Williams, man, that isn't my photograph. That's a skeleton."

"I beg your pardon," continued the unabashed speaker, "I find that it is an x-ray picture of the author."

Dr. Thomas, when the laughter had subsided, declared that "The Lordship of Jesus," carries with it a vision of Lyon, the man, as well as embodying all of the great spiritual truths that have made the Newark campaign, as well as other revivals, a success in the upbuilding of the kingdom of God. In that charming way that has characterized his advocacy of all other issues since his arrival in Newark, Dr. Thomas reviewed the book briefly, declaring, in conclusion that "those who wished to secure copies of the Lordship of Jesus could do so by applying to the book salesman at the close of the meeting. The book is one that has commanded the utmost respect of critics throughout the country, has already reached its fifth edition, and has the distinction of being one of ten books selected for placing on the British market this year."

At the close of Dr. Thomas' remarks, Prof. Mitchell again took charge of the service, asking for a few verses of "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" and "When the Roll is Called up Yonder," asking that the final verse be sung by the old soldiers, after which a verbal welcome was extended by the man whom all Newark has learned to appreciate, the man to whom is due the credit for arousing the recognition of the need for the greatest revival that central Ohio has ever known.

Dr. Lyon's face fairly beamed as he looked out over the hundreds of upturned faces, themselves shining with the light of a great desire for truth. The applause that greeted him showed the sincerity of the great respect he has aroused among all classes, and the preacher's voice shook with emotion as he acknowledged this tribute to his personality. "My friends," he said, when the excitement had for a moment subsided, "I am glad to be here with you. There is no evening of my campaign that makes my heart so warm within me as when the old soldiers come. We are certainly glad to greet you collectively; we have seen many of you individually in these meetings. To the generation that has arisen since the war, the story of Shiloh and Gettysburg is coupled with that of Marathon, Waterloo and Saratoga. It is almost impossible for us who have been born since the Civil War closed to imagine a call coming to us as it came to you amid the rush and hurry of active life, as it bade you to leave all on earth and give your time and strength and perhaps your lives in the service of your country. No hopes were higher, no prospects brighter, to none was life itself more dear than to those who left their homes never to return."

LABOR LEADER TESTIFIES IN THE DYNAMITE TRIAL

Indianapolis, Oct. 24.—H. W. Poleman, Seattle labor leader, today identified bundles of letters between him and J. J. McNamara. He also testified that Eugene Clancy, of San Francisco, was in Seattle in August, 1910, before the Los Angeles Times explosion. J. B. McNamara was also there, experimenting on how to make an electric spark without the use of a fulminating cap for the explosion of bombs. On August 31st, a Seattle building being erected by an open shop firm was dynamited. Attached to letters from J. J. McNamara were newspaper clippings giving accounts of the Seattle explosion.

Husband's Threats Caused His Arrest For Alleged Murder

Newark, N. J., Oct. 24.—Because her husband threatened to kill her, "as he had killed two men, one in Buffalo and the other in Hungary," Mrs. Mary Rapp today had him arrested by the police here, pending an investigation of his record.

Woodrow Wilson's Message to the American People

See Girt, N. J., Oct. 19, 1912.

To the Voters of America:

I am glad to have an opportunity to state very simply and directly why I am seeking to be elected President of the United States. I feel very deeply that this is not an ambition a man should entertain for his own sake. He must seek to serve a cause, and must know very clearly what, cause it is he is seeking to serve.

The cause I am enlisted in lies very plain to my own view: The Government of the United States, as now bound by the policies which have become characteristic of Republican administration in recent years, is not free to serve the whole people impartially, and it ought to be set free. It has been tied up, whether deliberately or merely by unintentional development, with particular interests, which have used their power, both to control the government and to control the industrial development of the country. It must be freed from such entanglements and all its members. Until it is freed, it cannot serve the people as a whole. Until it is freed, it cannot undertake any program of social and economic betterment, but must be checked and thwarted at every turn by its patrons and masters.

In practically every speech that I make, I put at the front of what I have to say the question of the tariff and the question of the trusts, but not because of any thought of party strategy, because I believe the solution of these questions to lie at the very heart of the bigger question, whether the government shall be free or not. The government is not free because it has granted special favors to particular classes by means of the tariff. The men to whom these special favors have been granted have formed great combinations by which to control enterprise and determine the prices of commodities. They could not have done this had it not been for the tariff. No party, therefore, which does not propose to take away these special favors and prevent monopoly absolutely in the service of the country sees even so much as the most elementary part of the method by which the government is to be set free.

The control to which tariff legislation has led, both in the field of politics and in the field of business, is what has produced the most odious feature of our present political situation, namely, the absolute domination of powerful bosses. Bosses cannot exist without keystone alliances. With these politics is hardly distinguishable from business. Bosses maintain their control because they are allied with men who wish their assistance in order to get contracts, in order to obtain special legislative advantages, in order to prevent reforms which will interfere with monopoly or with their enjoyment of special exemptions. Merely as political leaders, not backed by money, not supported by securely entrenched special interests, bosses could be entirely manageable and comparatively powerless. By freeing the government, therefore, we at the same time break the power of the boss. He trades, he does not govern. He arranges, he does not lead. He sets the stage for what the people are to do; he does not act as their agent or servant, but as their director. For him the real business of politics is done under cover.

The same cause that will set the government free from the influences which now constantly control it would set industry free. The enterprise and initiative of all enterprises could be substituted for the enterprise and initiative of a small group of them. Economic democracy would take the place of monopoly and selfish management. American industry would have a new buoyancy of hope, a new energy, a new variety. With the restoration of freedom would come the restoration of opportunity.

Moreover, an administration would at last be set up in Washington, and a legislative regime, under which real progress of social betterment could be undertaken as they cannot now. The government might be serviceable for many things. It might assist in a hundred ways to safeguard the lives and the health and promote the comfort and the happiness of the people; but it can do these things only if its actions be disinterested, only if they respond to public opinion, only if those who lead government see the country as a whole, feel a deep thrill of intimate sympathy with every class and every interest in it, know how to hold an open hand and listen to each of every sort and quality and origin, in taking counsel what is to be done. Interest must not fight against interest. There must be a common understanding and a free action all together.

The reason that I feel justified in appealing to the voters of this country to support the Democratic party at this critical juncture in its affairs is that the leaders of neither of the other parties propose to attack the problem of a free government at its heart. Neither proposes to make a fundamental change in the policy of the government with regard to tariff duties. It is with both of them in respect of the tariff merely a question of more or less, merely a question of leaping off a little here and ascending a little there; while with the Democrats it is a question of principle. Their object is to cut every special favor out, and cut it out just as fast as it can be cut out without upsetting the business processes of the country. Neither does either of the other parties propose seriously to disturb the supremacy of the trusts. Their only remedy is to accept the trusts and regulate them, notwithstanding the fact that most of the trusts are so constructed as to insure high prices, because they are not based upon efficiency but upon monopoly. Their success lies in control. The competition of more efficient competitors, not loaded down by the debts created when the combinations were made, would overthrow and conquer them. The trusts want the protection of the government, and are likely to get it if either the Republican or the so-called "Progressive" party prevails.

Surely this is a cause. Surely the questions of the pending election, looked at from this point of view, rise into a cause. They are not merely the debate of a casual party contest. They are the issues of life and death to us. (Which must be free in order to be strong. That call patriotic men do.)

CONVENTION OF STATE LIBRARIANS CLOSED WITH MORNING SESSION TODAY

Only a small audience gathered at the High School last night to hear Dr. Alexander Johnson, of Cleveland, secretary of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, who delivered an address before the members of the Ohio Library Association.

The lack of interest evinced by the community at large was more than offset by the enthusiasm of those who were fortunate enough to hear Dr. Johnson and by the attention which each auditor accorded to the speaker. Dr. Johnson took as his subject, "The Place of a Public Library in a Modern Community," but his discussion covered much wider ground, inquiring into the attitude of people toward libraries and of libraries toward people. His indefinable charm of manner, together with his infinite understanding of his subject, made his discourse one of the greater treats of the entire session.

In opening the speaker dwelt for some time on the position of the library in reference to the community. Taking the broader view he stated that it was not a luxury but a necessity and a duty—a duty which every community should discharge as a

GOVERNOR WILSON SPEAKS AT CHURCH CELEBRATION

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 24.—In the solemn atmosphere of a church, apart from the noise of political demonstration during the last two months, Governor Woodrow Wilson delivered a speech last night. It was virtually a sermon on the value of church organization, and was the principal address at the exercises celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the First Presbyterian church of Trenton.

"Life without the standard of the church," said the Governor, "is something like a faltering quiver. The church is one of the many expressions of the permanent side of life. This church through its 200 years has witnessed the birth and death of political parties. It has seen everything change except the search for God, and every community should realize that the search for God should take precedence over everything else.

"I know that the salvation of a church, however, the salvation of the community and the salvation of the state is to be found only by men who are greater than themselves. A man who is indifferent to his own success, but confident only of the cause he represents, has the hosts of Almighty God behind him."

The audience listened intently and applauded vigorously when the Governor finished.

The Governor and Mrs. Wilson motored back to their home in Princeton after the exercises.

The nominee spent a quiet day at work on his correspondence. He said he had no announcement to make as yet with respect to campaign plans.

BALKAN STATES MAINTAIN SILENCE REGARDING GREAT BATTLE NEAR ADRIANOPLE

London, Oct. 24.—With the Balkan states and Turkey awaiting official statements as to the progress of the war in other parts of European Turkey, they maintain a complete silence in regard to the great battle which has been raging for the last two days between Adrianople and Kirk-Kilissee, for the news of which the whole world is waiting.

The reports issued from the opposing sides as to the other battles show grave discrepancies. As to the main event, near Adrianople, what has been published up to the present time is largely supposition.

Army critics say that the Bulgarian army has the advantage of occupying rising ground at Kirk-Kilissee, and that the Turks must have their full forces in order to dislodge them. Another fierce engagement is in progress around Kumanova, on the way to Uskup, where both the Servians and Turks are claiming a victory.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 24.—Kirk-Kilissee has been captured by the Bulgarian army, which has been fighting against the Turkish troops in this vicinity for several days. The possession of the fortress opens the way to Bulgaria advancing on Adrianople.

Constantinople, Oct. 24.—The Serbian army operating near Kumanova has been defeated by the Turkish troops defending that town, which is on the way to Uskup. The Servians suffered enormous losses.

Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 24.—The Serbian troops have captured one part of the Turkish town of Kumanova, according to a telephone message received here today. A desperate battle is still going on in the vicinity of the town.

London, Oct. 24.—The Turkish fortress of Kirk-Kilissee has fallen, according to a news agency despatch from Sofia. It is regarded as the key to Adrianople, and is the headquarters of the Turkish third army corps, commanded by Keenan Pasha.

GOV. HARMON TO RECEIVE A WELCOME HOME

Columbus, O., Oct. 24.—Brass bands, a reception and an informal parade will be used in welcoming Governor Judson Harmon when he and his Ohio party, who have been at San Francisco picking out a site for the Ohio building at the Panama Exposition, return to Columbus tonight. The Governor and party are due at 8 o'clock.

The parade will be in large part composed of the members of the Franklin County Democratic club. The reception is to be in the nature of a surprise. Many local Democrats will attend.

After a few days spent at his office here the Governor will get out on the stump to advise his friends to vote for Woodrow Wilson for President and for Congressman James M. Cox for Governor and elect a Democratic Congress to uphold the President.

CHOLERA AGAIN SWEEPING INDIA

Washington, Oct. 24.—Cholera is again sweeping India, according to the statement of the United States Public Health Service. In August in the province of Madras alone, there were 21,306 cases, with 10,820 deaths, and in other parts of the empire, an equally great mortality record prevails.

JUDGE'S CHARGE TO THE JURY

In the Famous Becker
Case Was Not Beneficial for Defendant

ACQUITTAL PREDICTED

By Prisoner Who is Charged With Complicity in the Murder of Gambler Rosenthal.

New York, Oct. 24.—The fate of Lieutenant Charles F. Becker was given into the hands of the jury at 2:20 o'clock this afternoon. Before retiring for deliberation, the jurors were allowed until 3:30 o'clock for lunch.

Justice Goff concluded his charge at 1:50 o'clock, but John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for Becker, spent half an hour in entering objections to the rulings of the court.

New York, Oct. 24.—By tonight Lieutenant Charles Becker should know his fate. His trial for the murder of the "squealing" gambler, Herman Rosenthal, having been concluded last night with the closing address of Assistant District Attorney Moss, there remained this morning only Justice Goff's charge to the jury. Becker is hopeful of acquittal, but throughout the eight-hour ordeal of summing-up yesterday he said nothing and gave no indications of his emotions.

The accused lieutenant's lawyers have insisted that the issue is whether it shall be liberty or the electric chair, but it was thought possible that Justice Goff might instruct the jury that it was "within the law" to bring in a verdict of murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, or even manslaughter. It was expected that the charge would occupy about an hour.

Mrs. Becker, wife of the defendant, was one of the first to enter the court room.

A quarter of an hour before court convened the jurors filed into the box. District Attorney Whitman entered the court room a few minutes later and took his seat within the railing. The prisoner's wife was in the first row of spectators' seats. A little later Becker entered the room smiling. John F. McIntyre, and J. H. Hart, Becker's lawyers, chatted and laughed with him at their table.

Justice Goff entered from a side door at 10:35 o'clock and five minutes later began his charge to the jury. He spoke almost in a whisper and the jurors leaned forward in their seats to hear him. Becker strained forward as if to catch every word.

After instructing the jury that the defendant must be presumed innocent until it was proven beyond a reasonable doubt that he was guilty, Justice Goff defined the different degrees of murder.

"The killing of a human being," he said, "can be considered as murder, manslaughter and excusable homicide. There can be no verdict of excusable homicide and I will not consider that phase."

"This man's case rests solely with you. But in making your decision you must be guided entirely by the evidence and not by remarks of counsel."

Justice Goff warned the jury not to consider questions of counsel to which witnesses were not permitted to reply.

Murder in the first degree, Justice Goff said in his charge, is done with deliberate intent and design to kill, and in the second degree without premeditation.

"It is not necessary that I should dwell at length on the definition of murder in the second degree," said Justice Goff, as he cited cases in which the Superior courts have held that it was not necessary for the defendant to have seen the act of murder committed, in order to establish his guilt.

"It remains" the justice continued, "for you to determine whether Becker designed and premeditated the murder of Rosenthal. I instruct you, that the events referred to in the recital of the state's case do not

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS---25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save your Hair! Beautify it! Invigorate your scalp!
Danderine grows hair and we can prove it.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first--yes--but really new hair--growing all over the scalp. A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing--your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight--now--that your hair is as pretty and soft as any--that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment--that's all.

BRIEF NEWS OF OHIO HAPPENINGS

Coshocton: Mayor Cassingham has ordered extra "cops" for duty on Halloween. Disorderly conduct and destruction of property will result in the arrest of the offenders.

Newcomertown: Six teams brought more than 10,000 pounds of cheese to this village yesterday. The consignment was handled by a local commission house.

Dresden: Mrs. Edward Miller, 36, is dead and her husband is dying of typhoid fever here. The mother leaves two small children.

Coshocton: Not an egg was offered on market here yesterday, the farmers holding them back for higher prices.

Roseville: Charles Melick, 47, formerly of this city, who has been a prominent figure in railroad circles in Mexico for several years, died in Mexico City of pneumonia.

Lancaster: Superintendent Henderson of the pen farm at Morgan station has raised 5,000 bushels of potatoes for prison consumption, also 30 tons of cabbage, 300 bushels of carrots, 100 bushels of onions and 400 bushels of turnips.

Zanesville: Five thousand poker chips were tossed into the Muskingum river here yesterday by Sheriff Frick. The chips were the accumulation of a number of raids on local gambling houses.

Tiffin: All gambling in the city has been ordered suppressed by the city officials. Several raids were made and a great deal of paraphernalia confiscated.

Cambridge: Orville Black, claiming Zanesville as his home, and posing here as a representative of an anti-White Slave society, has skipped out after selling a number of membership tickets at $1 per head.

Cleveland: An unknown man attending a burlesque show here last night dropped dead as the big chorus tripped lightly over the stage.

Mansfield: The local Federation of Women's clubs listened to a lecture here on pure milk. The lectures were delivered by the local milk inspector and the manager of a big dairy company.

Canton: The Business Men's Association at a meeting held Tuesday evening, decided to begin an active campaign looking towards the adoption of the commission form of government for Canton.

Canton: Mary A. Hines, in her petition for divorce from Isaac Haines, asserts that in fifteen years he has given her but $6 for clothing. They have been married for 40 years.

St. Clairsville: Mrs. Anna C. Johnson, one of seven women who secured divorces here yesterday, was again married as soon as her decree had been signed.

Chillicothe: Following the example set in other cities, the Logan Natural Gas company has asked the city council to prohibit its pipes from electrolysis from the city street car lines.

Mt. Vernon: John F. Hartman, 69, dropped dead in the Pennsylvania railroad station here yesterday. He had been visiting his daughter here and went to the station to return to his home in Greensburg, Pa.

Ashland: The city council has passed an ordinance prohibiting moving picture exhibitions on Sunday.

Cleveland: At a joint meeting of the two societies advocating pure water in lakes and rivers, a resolution was introduced to consolidate the two associations. They seek to secure purer sources of water supply for cities and towns.

Dayton: Several hundred delegates are attending the 23d annual session of the grand chapter of the Ohio Order of Eastern Stars.

Cleveland: Jesse Taylor of Jamestown, president of the Good Roads Federation, is laying plans for a campaign looking toward the introduction of a bill to use the revenue from state auto licenses for good roads.

Toledo: An imposing street parade in which more than 1,000 Free and Accepted Masons participated, marked the 103d annual communication in session.

Dayton: Increase in the number of diphtheria cases here has resulted in an order from the school board to close every public and parochial school in the city.

BECKER CASE

(Continued from Page 1.) exclude from your consideration any other events which come within the scope of the evidence. It is not plain why the gun men killed Rosenthal at Becker's command. It is plain that he directed the death of Rosenthal.

Justice Goff then read the statute governing the testimony of accomplices, and told the jury that every person who aided and abetted in any way must be considered as an accomplice. "There is no question that those, Webber and Vallon were accomplices," he said.

Becker today predicted his acquittal by the jury that has heard the evidence in his trial for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

"I do not believe there is a possibility of being convicted. If I am there is no such thing as justice," he said.

In no great murder trial of the past has there been so much uncertainty as to the outcome. Lawyers who have figured in many famous murder trials shook their heads when asked to the probable verdict in the Becker case, and frankly confessed that they could find nothing out to venture a prediction.

One prominent attorney experienced in murder trials, said: "A disagreement is probable; conviction possible; acquittal improbable."

"CASCARETS" MAKE YOU FEEL GREAT

A 10 Cent Box Will Keep Your Liver Stomach and Bowels Clean,
Pure and Fresh for Months

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath -- always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passageway for a day or two--yes--but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep--a 10 cent box from your druggist means your liver and bowels clean and regular for months.

LIBRARY

(Continued from Page One.) scientifically as it does that of giving its citizens pure water, proper sanitary conditions and a maximum of protection of life and property.

Taking up the question of the school youth he quoted statistics showing the pitifully small per cent of the pupils who are able to complete the elementary courses and made an urgent plea that the library take up the work where the school life ends, arousing interest, furnishing technical and theoretical knowledge and most of all inspiring the growing mind with a desire to attain a broad culture through reading.

Of the relation of culture to length the speaker spoke at some length, stating that a broad culture comes only in mature years after much reading. Dr. Johnson's attitude was that no culture comes except through reading, that not much reading will be done unless the person likes that which he reads and that he will not like what he reads unless the library puts into his hands the literature that he is able to understand.

In this connection he justified the place in the library of the works of some authors at whose efforts librarians have been inclined to look askance, for he found that very often this class of fiction was very often the beginning of an interest in literature and the means of inciting a longing for the things of greater worth.

One portion of his discourse Dr. Johnson devoted to a discussion of the attributes of the ideal librarian, of the methods he should employ and of the advances possible through the employment of such methods.

The entire address was replete with a quiet humor, filled with an almost infinite sympathy and understanding and of so intimate a nature that each auditor seemed to feel that the message carried by the speaker was for him alone.

One of the important actions of the association at its business meeting on Wednesday was the adoption of a resolution in reference to Miss Mary E. Downey, former state library organizer, but recently removed from office. The resolution endorsed the work of Miss Downey and looked favorably upon her removal, deploring the introduction of politics into the work of the library. As a further testimonial of the regard of Miss Downey the nominating committee chose her as the nominee for the office of president of the association. Miss Downey, she having been responsible for the organization of the Newark Library.

The program for Thursday, the final day of the session, was held in the Trinity Parish House, and included a number of addresses and discussions or the delegates.

One of the duties of the members of the association which was discharged at the morning business meeting on Thursday was the election of officers for the ensuing year. In this connection the honor of election to the office of third vice president was bestowed upon Miss Corinne A. Metz, the daughter of C. C. Metz of this city. Miss Metz is the librarian at Van Wert, Ohio.

The balloting resulted in the choice of the following officers:
President--Mary E. Downey, Columbus.
First vice president--Willis F. Sewall, Toledo.
Second vice president--Herbert S.

Hirshberg, Cleveland.
Third vice president--Corinne A. Metz, Van Wert.
Secretary--Lyle Harter, Lima.
Treasurer--Mirphah G. Blair, Columbus.

The association this morning selected Mansfield as the place for its next meeting.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Crozier of Cleveland, one of the members of the Ohio Library Association, conducted the first children's hour that has ever been held in the children's room of the local library.

Seventy children from Miss Lawhead's room and Miss Tyhurst's room of the Central School thronged the room and listened enraptured to the stories told by the charming visitor. At the close of each story the little hands would fly up and the little voices, like Oliver Twist, would chirp "More!"

It is the hope of the local library that arrangements can be made to establish the custom of frequent "children's hours" for the entertainment of the youngsters.

ALBERT A. STASEL CANDIDATE FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

For the first time in the history of Ohio, judges of the supreme, circuit, common pleas and probate courts will be elected from a non-partisan ballot. The judicial candidates' names will appear upon a separate ballot and there will be no emblem or other mark to indicate the official preferences of any candidate. For that reason it behooves every voter to study the records of the judicial candidates so that no mistake will be made.

The fifth judicial circuit is made up of 15 counties, one of them being Licking County. A circuit judge will be elected for the long term and a circuit judge will also be elected for a short term. Licking county is honored in having one of the two candidates for the long term in the person of Albert A. Stasel.

Mr. Stasel is qualified through education, experience and practice, for the honor to which he aspires. Mr. Stasel was educated in Wooster University and for many years has been a leading practitioner at the Licking County bar. He is clean and honorable in his dealings and has no interests to serve other than the public's interest. Mr. Stasel is in the full vigor of manhood, is broadminded, liberal in his political views and there is no doubt that he will receive a large vote throughout the entire district, but especially in his home city, Newark, and his home county, Licking.

HOW TO PRESERVE YOUTH AND BEAUTY.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make-up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending thirty-one cents for cloth-bound copy, addressing Dr. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y.

The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and the improper handling of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused head, backache, headache, or hot flashes and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be avoided by a proper understanding of what to do, in those trying times that come to all women.

Mrs. G. H. Williams of Lynchburg, Va. wrote: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors (I employed three) said I would die. I was not able to do my work, had to hire someone all the time. Finally, I read in the papers about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle until I found it had done me good. I took, in all, five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I am able to do all my housework, and have gained fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try your 'Favorite Prescription.' It's the only medicine on earth."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 25c. Golden Medical Discovery, 25c. Sold everywhere.

The most thoughtful and forceful utterance made by Col. Roosevelt in the campaign was his statement that the pay envelope did not show that the workingman was getting his share of the protection that the tariff professed to give. This was a plain confession that it is the Trusts that are getting the high protection benefits.

The appeal to vote for Taft is an appeal to vote for the Trusts and the high cost of living.

The old Republican game of begging the workingman to "vote for his job" is the last resort in the way of an appeal for a vote for Taft. It is the same old campaign appeal for the perpetuation of the Trusts, which means the continuation of the high cost of living.

BRYAN CALLS DOWN SENATOR BURTON

In the last issue of the Commoner Hon. William Jennings Bryan quoted the statement of Senator Burton, one of President Taft's ardent supporters, to show that the Payne-Aldrich tariff law is a fraud and imposition upon all consumers, especially workingmen, and that President Taft deliberately repudiated a pre-election pledge to the people when he signed the measure. Mr. Bryan said:

"Senator Burton of Ohio, who is defending the Payne-Aldrich tariff law in campaign speeches, admits that the average duty collected under that law is 41.4 per cent. The United States census figures give the total labor cost of all manufacturing industries at 22 per cent. 'The true principle of protection,' said the Republican platform, and President Taft, 'is best maintained by the imposing of such duties as will equal the difference between the cost of protection at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit to American industries.' If the total labor cost in America is 22 per cent and the average tariff duty is 41.4 per cent, then the Republican tariff-makers must figure that the reasonable profit the American manufacturer should have is 19.4 per cent, or almost as much as the amount paid out to labor in producing those articles of manufacture."

Utterly Wretched

Nervous Prostration Long Endured Before Remedy Was Found.
Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Bern, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and beef tea because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, when I began to gain at once. Am now cured." Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases.
Get it today. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, the only blood purifier and blood-purifying tablets called Sarsaparilla.

REPUBLICAN INSURGENT
CONDEMNED IT

Speaking in the United States
Senate in the afternoon of June 12, 1910, former U. S. Senator Dolliver of Iowa, one of the group of progressive Republican senators whom President Taft, Senator Aldrich, Speaker Cannon and Attorney General Wickersham, attempted to read out of the Republican party because he voted against the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, said the following:

"I never dreamed then that within a little more than one year I would be called upon to defend myself and the little group of men with whom I stand against the charge of being a traitor to the president and guilty of treason to the Republican party."

There is a campaign committee presided over by a multimillionaire street car magnate (Rep. McKinley) with a treasury filled with rotten money, pouring out its steady stream of muddy literature to defame us. I refuse to leave the party to accommodate such a political hocus pocus as that.

"The president is in error. It is not necessary for men to swallow every tariff bill that is set before them, and it will be difficult to get me out on such a charge. It cannot be done by lying about me or calling me names such as 'Free trader' and 'Democrat.' Least of all it can't be done by taking from my neck the millstone of political patronage. I share the universal disgust of making a great executive department the headquarters of the awkward squad of politics."

"Two great hoaxes occurred last summer. One was the discovery of the North Pole by Dr. Cook; the other was the downward revision of the tariff by the senator from Rhode Island. Each was warmly congratulated by the honest official of the government."

The tariff bill, which Senator Dolliver declared was one of the greatest hoaxes of 1909, is the very tariff bill that Democrats now propose to revise downward.

The voter who casts his ballot for Taft votes for the Trusts and against himself.

For an eight-year-old Aleck Romanoff has a good many millions of people praying for his recovery from his illness.

Col. Roosevelt always contended there were some good trusts, and his friend George Perkins persists in making the same claim.

REPUBLICAN TRICK TO DECEIVE VOTERS

With the election a very short time off and with almost every reader and thinker and political observer believing that Wilson will be elected, practically every line of business is showing extremely marked activity. The railroads are placing heavy orders for new rails and equipment, and their earnings are running ahead of last year by many millions of dollars monthly; wholesale houses are having tremendous demands for goods; the steel mills and factories are full of orders; bank clearings show heavy gains all over the country. This intense business activity is due to the fact that the business world knows Governor Wilson will do just what he says he will do.
His record is one of complete fulfillment of his promises. All well posted business men know that Governor Wilson's election will help rather than disturb business, because they have absolute confidence that he means every word of it when he says:

We don't want to disturb the industry of the country * * *
The changes (in the tariff) which we make should be made only at such a rate and in such a way as will least interfere with the normal and healthful course of commerce and manufacture."

The fact of these evident conditions of heavy business in the face of the very apparent election of Wilson, means simply that the legitimate business world knows that the election of the Democratic ticket means continual and unprecedented prosperity; yet in spite of this the Republican managers resort to their old calamity howl to fool voters for the purpose keeping the Trusts in power and perpetuating the high cost of living.

WILLIAM E. HAAS.

Hon. William E. Haas of Delaware county, is a candidate for re-election to the senate from the 15th-16th district. Senator Haas has served his constituents well and faithfully in the upper branch of the Ohio assembly. He was always found on the right side of every measure and his record on labor legislation has been perfectly satisfactory to the officials of all labor organizations. No man in this senatorial district has ever served the people more faithfully and honestly.

JAMES W. RUTLEDGE.

Mr. James W. Rutledge, of this city, is a candidate for re-election as county treasurer. Mr. Rutledge has served the people well and faithfully and his friends will seek to re-elect him. Mr. Rutledge was born in this county, being a son of the late Col. W. D. Rutledge, one of the staunchest Democrats of the county.

Mr. Rutledge is one of the best known men throughout Licking County. He is genial, accommodating and obliging at all times. He has made a record for efficiency equalled by few officers ever elected in the county and he has never been too busy to give his time and attention to any who had business with him or who sought for information which he was able to give.

DR. W. E. WIYIARCH.

Dr. W. E. Wiyiarch is candidate for coroner of Licking county, having served in that office for the past two years. He has been a painless-talking official, has given entire satis-

MELANCHOLIA.

This life we lead is far from nice, and going broke's our only goal. So long we've blown ourselves for jee! And now we blow ourselves for coal.
We dig, we delve, we weave, we spin, to have a package when we're old; and now we have to blow it in for drugs to cure a doggone cold. The northern wind comes down and moans and plays its same old spiteful games, and we must blow our hoarded bones for rags to wrap around our frames. The Christmas spirit is abroad, the day when soon come down the tracks, and we must blow our little wad for evergreens and jumping jacks. We blow ourselves for this and that, and 'foster-wife's hat, some guileless for the children's shoes. We dig, we delve, we card, we spin, to put the hungry wolf to route; alas! there's little coming in, and money always going out! A shilling fir a can of wher, a shekel for some rough on rats, a doubloon for a bale of hay to feed our starving thomas cats! And thus the winters always bring an ending to our saving scheme; and if we smile and dance and sing, we only do it when we dream.

faction and is thoroughly qualified to fill the place. He was always on the job day and night, and the smallest details of any fatality were never overlooked.

The doctor is well and favorably known and highly respected by residents over the entire county. For years as a deputy coroner and two years as coroner qualifies him for the position to which he aspires.
That he is well qualified to perform the duties of the office has been demonstrated time and again during the past six years to the satisfaction of the people of the county irrespective of party politics.

As he lives in Newark and is therefore centrally located, he makes a very desirable candidate. Dr. Wi-yarch has always been a Democrat and has worked hard and effectively in the interest of the party. He deserves to be re-elected and his hundreds of friends are boosting to that end.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup Will Surprise You

Keeps Even Whooping Cough Quietly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint—enough for a whole family. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. Brings up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis, and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in essential oil and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the Pinex has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SOCIETY

Miss Laura Claypool entertained very pleasantly with a thimble party at the home of her sister, Mrs. Milton Rockwell on Elliot street Tuesday evening. Eight young ladies were present. During the evening the engagement of Miss Claypool to Mr. Berus Hoffman was announced.—Mt. Vernon Banner.

Miss Claypool is known by a number of friends in Newark, having often visited her sister, Mrs. Shirley F. Berry of Tenth street.

A miscellaneous shower was given Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown at their home in Martinsburg Tuesday evening by about one hundred of their friends and neighbors. They received a large number of presents that were both useful and beautiful. Refreshments were served during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were just recently married.

Mr. Leonard Edwin Rawlinson, typewriter operator employed in the Republican-News office at Mt. Vernon, and Miss Faye Pauline Freese, a well-known young lady of Martinsburg, were united in marriage at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening at Baldwin chapel, St. Paul's Parish house by the Rev.

FEEL BULLY, HEALTHY APPETITE, PERFECT DIGESTION, LIVER RIGHT, NO MORE CONSTIPATION—LA XIPODS DID IT.

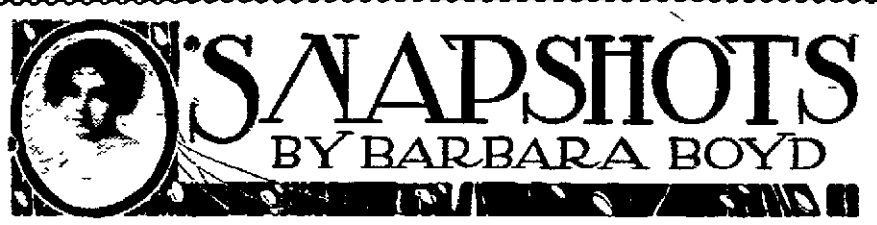

Laxipods are those sweet little avander laxatives that stop constipation at once and strengthen and build up the bowels to a real healthy condition.

Sick headache, dizziness, sour stomach, sallow complexion, pimples, sores, etc., are all the result of constipation and a slow liver. When you begin to feel bad, get busy. Take Laxipods and get rid of all that needless trouble and pain. They are sweet and easy to take and clean out your system like magic. Get a box tonight at your druggist's, 10c or 25c. Keep them in the house all the time. They're fine for children.

Made by the Community Remedies Co., Dayton, Ohio.

Free sample mailed on request if you mention your druggist's name.

The Woman Who Sniffs Trouble

THE exigencies of travel, and the unexpected conditions of a convention-crowded city, threw three strangers together in a religious hospice for the night.

The noises of the city had gradually stilled and nearby chimneys had struck two, when one of the women suddenly exclaimed, "I smell smoke!"

The others stirred drowsily.

"Don't you smell it?" she asked.

One woman sniffed a bit, and said she thought she did smell it a little.

At this, the first woman sat up on the edge of her bed and sniffed loudly.

"I smell it quite strong," she said. "I am nervous about fire, because it always seems to follow me. In Vancouver, I had to jump out of a third story window."

At this, the woman who smelled it a little sat up and sniffed. "I do smell it," she decided.

The third woman muttered things and said, "I don't smell it at all."

"Oh, I don't know," chorused the other two. "We both smell it."

"What would you do?" asked the lady after whom fire tagged.

"Well, at any rate," said the other sniffer, "the fire-escapes are right at the end of the hall. I saw them as I came to my room."

"But it seems to me," said the fire-lady, "that we ought to do something. Think of all the people in the house who will be burned to death!"

"Goodness!" exclaimed the second lady jumping out of bed. "I think I'll get my things together."

"There isn't any fire," said the third lady. "You're foolish. Go to bed."

"But she says fire always follows her," objected the second lady.

"Rubbish!" muttered the third, trying to stop her ears.

"I saw the housekeeper's room as I came up," said the fire-lady. "I think I'll go tell her."

"The ideal!" exclaimed the third lady from under the bed-covers. "She won't thank you to wake her up."

"Fire is a serious matter," said the second lady pinning on her puffs.

"It certainly is," replied the fire-lady with dignity. "I am going to call her."

She went out into the hall and rapped on the housekeeper's door.

"I smell smoke," she said in response to the inquiry from within.

There was an unintelligible sound from the housekeeper's room. Then an irate voice said, "They're building next door, and that smell is something they're using on the roof."

"Well, it's better to be sure," said the fire-lady, coming back into the room and getting into bed.

The second lady took off her puffs and also retired.

The third lady said some more things under the bed-covers. Then, once more silence fell, broken only by the chimneys ringing the half hour.

"That was quite a scare we had last night," said the second lady the next morning, when the fire-lady had departed.

"Oh, I don't know," replied the third lady. "I guess if it hadn't been smoke, it would have been something else. I think she is the kind who is always sniffing trouble of some sort."

Rip-p-p-p-p! Out Come Thousands of Dress Shields!

No More Excessive and Unnatural Arm-Pit Perspiration or Odor.

Get a box of PERSPI-NO right away (a free powder pad in each box) and get the surprise of your life. It means good-bye to that excessive and unnatural perspiration, whatever it may be, that makes you feel miserable, good-bye to stained, faded, stiffened, ruined dresses and waists.

PERSPI-NO keeps the arm pits just as fresh, natural and dry as the back of your hand. No more rolling up of dress shields like roses under the arms. It means the age of dress shields is gone.

As a remover of perspiration odors and a body sweeter, there is nothing like it. Not a sticky, greasy cream! It's a powder, like it in summer when it's hot, or in winter when your clothing is heavy. It's a marvel.

PERSPI-NO, sold at drug and department stores, etc. a box, or sent on receipt of price by The Perso Co., Chicago, Ill.

For sale and recommended by City Drug Store, Evans' Drug Store, N. W. Smith.

Oyster supper was served, the guests finding their places by dainty place cards. The guests departed at a late hour, voting the former many happy returns of the day.

Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the host and hostess were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Radebaugh, Mrs. Matilda McFarland, Mrs. Henry Doughty, and the Misses Daisy Shipp, Florence Palmer, Keith Lorenz, Aldina Shmit, Edith and Eva Lyle, Laura Stough, and Emma Grefelman and Messrs. Frank Dean, Bert Morrison, Ernest Pierce and Earl Sells.

FELL-EMERY.

With a profusion of palms and autumn leaves arranged throughout the pretty little Elizabeth Chapel in West Main street, Wednesday evening, Miss Estella G. Emery, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Emery of 52 Fulton avenue, became the bride of William Anthony Fell, son of Mr. Albert Fell, of Sixteenth street. At 8 o'clock as the bridal party formed in the vestibule of the church, Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Iona Cole. The bride was given in marriage by her father and looked lovely in a gown of white messaline and marquisette with silver trimmings.

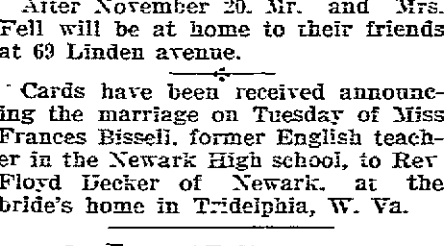

She wore a dainty little Juliet cap of silver beads and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Fay Emery, sister of the bride was bridesmaid and wore pink messaline draped with crepe of the same color and trimmed in old lace. She carried pink roses. The ring bearer, Catherine Emery, who carried the ring in the center of a white rose, and the flower girls, Bessie Richardson of Zanesville, niece of the groom, and Charlotte Hoop were daintily clad in white with touches of blue. Fred Fell, brother of the groom, was best man. Carl Emery and Joe Fell, as ushers, completed the bridal party.

At the home following the ceremony a luncheon was served to only the immediate relatives. The rooms were arranged with autumn leaves, ferns, and cut flowers.

Mrs. Fell was graduated from the Newark High School, class 1909, and since that time has been a teacher in the Newark public schools. Mr. Fell who formerly lived in Zanesville, is interested with his father in the Newark Casting company.

After November 20, Mr. and Mrs. Fell will be at home to their friends at 69 Linden avenue.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage on Tuesday of Miss Frances Bissell, former English teacher in the Newark High School, to Rev. Floyd Becker of Newark, at the bride's home in Philadelphia, W. Va.

Which thare was, heeing no speshill kind of a dog with wun wite eer and wun brown eer and a tale without much hare awn it.

So thare is, 'so thare is sed' on, looking erround, well, let him follo us, he went doing us' eny day and he seems to be getting a lot of plezzure out of it, wen I wuz a lad I was very fond of hot doggy sandwiches, so far be it from me to spoil a littile mongrils plezzure at my time of life.

Do they reely make them out of dogs, pop, I sed, meaning the sandwiches, and pop sed, I shooodent be surprised, thares no limit to a dogs usefinitess.

Jest then I looked erround agen and thare was 2 dogs folloing vs, the first wun and a big black wun with kerly hare.

G, pop, I sed, thares 2 dogs folloing us.

So thare are, sed pop, well let them follo, you have no ideer how fond I was of hot doggy sandwiches in my youth and if wun dog takes plezzure in folloing us, thing of how much plezzure two dogs must take.

Jest then I looked erround agen, and thare was 3 dogs folloing us, the first wun, the seckind wun and a yello wun with a laving nose.

G, pop, I sed, thares 3 folloing us.

2 is kumpany, threes a krowd, sed pop, I feer I shell haff to banish the tendir memories of my youth and gire chaze to them.

Which he did, waving his arms erround and saying, Shoo, shoo and the dogs thawt he was playing a gain and barked and wagged thare tales. awl except the yello dog awn akount of not having eny tale to wag, and ran awl erround pop as if they was having a grate time, wich I gess they was.

Stropid animals, sed pop, dogs use to have some sents wen I was a boy.

And we started to wawk agen, and the neckst time I looke round thare the neckst time I looked erround wun, the seckind wun, the therd wun and a black and wite dog with suna thing the matir with wun leg.

G, pop, I sed thares 4 dogs folloing us.

To much is suffishint, sed pop, and we got awn a kar and rode hoam jest as a big dog so derty you coodent tell wat kuller he was calim up and the hole 5 dogs ran afir the kar a littil ways and then stopped.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

By O. Terrence.

"SUNNY JIM" SHERMAN, 57 TO DAY, HAS REFORMED SENATE.

James Schoolcraft Sherman, in celebrating his fifty-seventh birthday today, cannot look back upon any mighty achievements in the way of having honors thrust upon him by a grateful people. He is only vice president of the United States, and in the estimation of the world that job is only a few degrees better than official dogcatcher for Saskatoon. About the only way the average person can remember the name of the vice president is by association of ideas, recalling that his moniker is the same as that of a certain warrior who once distinguished himself by a march through Georgia to the sea; and in my own case that scheme is not a howling success, for I often get Sherman mixed with the intrepid general who was twenty miles away.

Vice President Sherman has often been accused—by William Randolph Hearst, world's champion accuser, and others—of one thing or another, but through it all he has retained that broad smile which has won for him the title of "Sunny Jim." Even the black cloud that has come up from Oyster Bay way has not affected his spirits. If the vice president is worrying about the result of next month's election, the outward and visible signs of such mental unrest have been excellently repressed.

One mighty achievement, at last, is to credit of Mr. Sherman. He has thaved out the gelid Senate, and that once frigid body will never be the same again. The vice president, as you may know, is the presiding officer of the United States Senate, which is about all the limelight he gets out of vice presiding. For years before Mr. Sherman's arrival on the scene the Senate carried on its deliberations with about the same degree of cheer as is manifested by the relatives at the funeral of a wealthy spinster who has left all her money to the founding of a home for homeless cats. The Senate overlooked nothing that could add to the solemnity of the occasion.

When the "Sunny Jim" smile first dawned on the American House of Lords, the members were scandalized. They considered the Sherman smile as indecent as a giggling girl at a funeral. They frowned, and looked at each other with horror in their eyes when "Sunny Jim" ascended the rostrum, or pulpit, or dais, or throne, or whatever he occupies, wearing a sack coat of gray material, instead of the conventional black frock that has for ages been the uniform of a Senator. Eventually all but a few recovered from the shock, and finally they grew to like the Sherman smile and the unconventional apparel of their presiding officer. This summer more sack coats were worn by Senators than ever before, thanks to Mr. Sherman's example.

James Schoolcraft Sherman was born on October 24, 1855, in Utica, N. Y., which city he has ever since called home. He graduated from Whites-town seminary and Hamilton college, and in 1884 was admitted to the bar and began the practice of law in his native city. Within a few years he had become the grand supreme po-bash of Utica, president of a bank, and mayor of the city. No pent-up Utica could lock or restrain his activities, however, and in 1887 he went to Washington to represent his home district in Congress. He was a member of all the following Congresses, with the exception of the Fifty-second, until elected vice president in 1905.

It is not too much to say that Mr. Sherman is one of the most popular presiding officers the Senate has ever had. Democrats and Progressives like him personally, and should they succeed in ousting him their triumph would be tingled with regret.

Daddy's Bedtime Story
The Two Roasting Chestnuts Fall Out
Jack and Evelyn Were Roasting Chestnuts.

THE open fire was burning brightly in the grate. "A fine evening for roasting chestnuts," said daddy. Jack and Evelyn smiled as they set a couple of nuts close to the blaze. "Those are fine fat fellows there in the corner," daddy added. "Shall I tell you what I think they are saying? Very well. "What are you doing here?" says the big chestnut to the little one. "Warming my toes, same as you," answers the little chap. "Indeed; then this is my fire," cries the big fellow. "I was here before you," says the little one. "That makes no difference. I want the fire to myself." "So do I," peevishly replies the little one. "Where did you come from?" asks the big nut. "From the little tree at the foot of the hill," says the little one. "Then I'm older than you are, and, of course, I should be the boss," says the big chestnut. "Boss away then," chirps the little one. "I don't mind." "But you should do as I tell you," insists the big nut. "Because you are bigger and older than I am is no reason that I should," declares the little nut. "If my friend, Mr. Downy, was here he would make you obey!" the big chestnut cries angrily. "Who is Mr. Downy?" asks the little nut. "Mr. Downy is the woodpecker who lives on our tree and eats the worms that come around annoying us." "Oh, yes; I know who you mean!" exclaims the little nut. "Mr. Downy is the little black and white bird with the red bonnet who goes tap-tapping up and down the trunk of the tree. Well, Mr. Downy is just as much at home on our tree, so you needn't count on his taking your part." "How could he?" sneers the large nut. "Such a homely little thing as you are!" "Homely yourself!" retorts the little nut unkindly. "The large chestnut is so annoyed that it hops up into the air. "Oh, you mean thing!" it cries. "Don't call me mean!" snaps the little nut, and it, too, hops into the air. "Then there is such a hopping and snapping that it is hard to tell the two nuts apart. They are both so angry that they miss their footing and instead of settling back on the grate pop into the fire, and that is end of them."

TROUBLE IN COAL FIELDS

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 24.—Striking and working miners clashed at a number of points in the Kanawha coal fields last night, but there were no casualties. The principal disturbance was at Cabin Creek Junction. Four companies of the militia have returned home, leaving one in the field. It was stated, however, that at the first sign of serious disorder, the militia would be restored.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Newark People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.
It's not words, but deeds that prove true merit.
The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Newark kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Newark people who have been cured to starry-eyed.
P. B. Pritchett, 406 Wilson St., Newark, O., says: "I am glad to confirm the testimonial I gave some years ago recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. There is no better kidney medicine. I took Doan's Kidney Pills in 1889 and the difficulties I had endured from poor kidney action were ended. Another member of our family also appreciates Doan's Kidney Pills very highly. She has received wonderful benefit from their use and says she could not be without them."

AMUSEMENTS

Last Night's Show.

An audience of only moderate proportions witnessed last night's production of George Broadhurst's "The Price" at the Auditorium. The vehicle, which is employed to star Miss Edna Marshall, is a typical Broadway production and the capable company headed by Miss Marshall and George V. Dill, made the most of the opportunities offered by the author.

The atmosphere of the production was marred to some extent by the fact that the company made use, in the second and third acts, of an old interior setting that has suffered through too long association with the

with the form of early musical comedy that established his first fame and that of the New York Casino, where he produced it during many successive seasons—a form that the "Belle of New York" and its successors instance—has just projected still another kind of musical play in "Madame Sherry," so new in model that New York went mad over it. Described on the programme as a French vaudeville, "Madame Sherry"—the latest Lederer manifest—differs from the former Casino managers' output in that instead of "playing the chorus up" i. e., making it a dominant element of the piece he represses it in numbers, tomorrow, Saturday, Oct. 26, Matinee and evening, with the young successful player, Roy LaMarr, as the star. This is a story that will appeal to every man, woman and child; in fact it will teach a good lesson to all. The stars of the play are surrounded by a cast of clever players. The company carries beautiful scenery and effects, so as to make this wonderful play one of the successes of the season in your city. The story of the play is founded around a young girl, who, unknown to her, reforms her can brother from a criminal. Love finds its way into both their hearts and their relationship is not discovered until the eve of the happiest moments of their lives—their wedding night. Everything is carried with the company to present it in a first class way. Every one who is alive should never miss seeing "The Girl and the Outlaw."

The Orpheum.

If you wish to witness an excellent vaudeville performance, drop in at the Orpheum either tonight or during the Friday and Saturday performances and you will be well repaid for your trouble.

One of the big features is Art Adair, in his big comedy act, "Hank Sponges or Kestry." There is no limit to the fun furnished by this famous comedian.

The German models' artistic poses in bronze is indeed a piece of art, as you see real living people, men and women, posing as bronze models. The act is produced with special plush curtain and drops, also with special electrical effects to make it more real.

Shaw & Lemar are real singers and dangers of a high class order. They have up-to-date songs and dances, also a great talking number, and are real fun makers.

Newport & Bert have an excellent novelty comedy act, and every piece of furniture used on the stage is broken into pieces during the performance. This will be a big winner, sure.

The act is guaranteed a first class production in every way, and Manager Boyce says every one ought to see it as it is one of the finest on the road. Order your seats early.

EVA TANGUAY AT THE CLEVELAND COLONIAL.

Lew Fields, America's foremost producer of musical comedy, is sending his newest star, Eva Tanguay, "the Creole comedienne," to the Colonial theatre for the week beginning Monday, October 28, in his latest and most spectacular entertainment—"The Sun Dodgers."

It is hardly necessary to dilate upon the tremendous popularity of Miss Tanguay, who is admittedly the most talked of actress now appearing upon the American stage, as well as the highest salaried. Her somewhat eccentric personality and her infectious gaiety have never found more abundant outlet than in the role of Miss Praline Nuttleigh, a Winter Garden favorite, in "The Sun Dodgers." Miss Tanguay will sing at least eight entirely new songs including two numbers which are expected to eclipse in popularity even "I Don't Care." These numbers are "Ginger," and "Hiram's Band." Also she will wear an infinite variety of those striking and bizarre costumes for which she is famous.

With Miss Tanguay will be seen that screamingly funny low comedian and master of absurdities, Geo. W. Monroe, who will appear as a wealthy widow from Butte. Admiration will be for Mr. Monroe will be Harry Fisher, that other delightful droll who will be remembered as the "shoe store man" in "The Midnight Sons." Another prominent entertainer in the big cast will be Belle Blanche, the dainty little singing comedienne and mimic just recruited from vaudeville.

HOMESTEAD LAND TO BE OPENED

Washington, Oct. 24.—Commissioner Bennett of the General Land Office today ordered that 49,080 acres of unappropriated land excluded from the Humboldt national forest in Nevada last June be subject to homestead settlement December 30, and that 26,680 acres already surveyed be opened January 29 at Carson City.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

When Mosquitoes Worry You.
A writer in the Century Magazine recommends some mixtures to scare mosquitoes and gives suggestions for treating their bites. Here is one compound. Oil of citronella, one ounce; spirit of camphor, one ounce; oil of cedar, one-half ounce.

Ordinarily a few drops on a bath towel hung over the head of the bed will keep the common house mosquitoes away. Where they are very abundant and persistent a few drops rubbed on the face and hands will suffice.

An Austin (Tex.) correspondent advises the combination of one ounce of oil of citronella with four ounces of liquid vaseline. The mixture retards the evaporation of the citronella.

A New York formula reads: Castor oil, one ounce; alcohol, one ounce; oil of lavender, one ounce.

In the Philippines pure kerosene has been extensively used. Sulphur is mentioned as a mosquito fumigant; also powdered jimson weed mixed with salt-peter. An even more homely recipe is to burn dried orange peel.

As a salve for mosquito bites moist soap, ammonia, alcohol, glycerin, a lump of indigo, iodine, a naphthalene moth ball are good suggestions. A South Carolina minister has found that by holding his hand to a hot lamp chimney the irritation of mosquito punctures is instantly relieved.

Fortunes in Faces.
There's often much truth in the saying, "Her face is her fortune," but it's never said where pimples, skin eruptions, blotches, or other blemishes disfigure it. Impure blood is back of them all, and shows the need of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They promote health and beauty. Try them. 25c. at F. D. Hall's.

BROCADES TO BE IN STYLE THIS WINTER

Brocades are the fashion again and wonderful effects in color and design will be worn this winter. The model is of flame color and gold, showing a graceful draping of the material. The brocade seems to start from the center front of the waist line and winds around the figure, ending in a long pointed train, showing the salvage of the material on one side.

FIRST THINGS

The first shipment of fresh salmon from Canada to England was made thirty-three years ago today. The fish were frozen and packed in ice, and carried across the ocean in huge refrigerators, reaching Liverpool in good condition.

The first important organization of dairymen, the British Dairy Farmers' Association, was established thirty-six years ago today, and held large exhibitions in London.

The first great war for religious toleration in Germany was ended 264 years ago today by the treaty of Westphalia. The destruction of life and property in the "Thirty Years War" was almost unprecedented, and caused a century of retardation in the progress of Germany.

heatre, and of a rather incongruous mixture of mission, golden oak, and tear-mahogany furniture.

Miss Marshall, as Ethel Toscani, possesses a pleasing voice and the power to carry her audience with her in a part replete with emotion and outbursts. George V. Dill, as Dr. Bristol, was distinctly different from the usual male lead and was especially good in his strong scene in the final act.

Catherine C. Bennett, as Mrs. Jole, the elderly virago, and Clarence Bennett as Prof. Damaroff, were well cast, but erred slightly, the former in over-drawing her characterization, and the latter in failing in its enunciation at times.

Jack Burhorn, as Stannard Dale, Violet Fisher, as Susan, and Glenn Porter, as Florence essayed the minor roles of the play in a pleasing manner.

In its entirety the play had the power to grip the interest, largely through the efforts of Miss Marshall and Mr. Dill, whose work was of a higher caliber than that of the supporting company.

DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS," NOT CALOMEL, OIL OR SALTS

Please try this gentle fruit laxative to cleanse your stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels of the sour bile, foul gasses and clogged-up waste.

Foul breath, coated tongue, dull, throbbing headache, stomach sour and full of gases, indigestion, biliousness and a sallow complexion, mean that your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with waste matter; that these drainage organs of the body are obstructed; liver stagnant and stomach full of poisonous gases, sour bile and undigested fermenting food not properly carried off.

Most of our ills are caused by constipated bowels. We need a laxative sometimes, nobody can doubt that. The only question is, Which one is the best? and that isn't a question any more. Syrup of Figs, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, must act in a harmless, gentle and natural way. Syrup of Figs can be constantly used without injury. Its action is the action of fruit—of eating coarse food—of taking exercise. It is a true and effective liver and bowel cleanser and regulator.

Most folks dread physic—they shrink from the taste and after-effects. Syrup of Figs is delicious, and, besides, you don't realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the clogged up waste of the system is gently, but thoroughly moved on and out of the bowels without griping or weakness.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." This is the old reliable and only genuine. Refuse, with contempt, any other Fig Syrup recommended as good. They are imitations meant to deceive you. Read the label carefully and look for the name California Fig Syrup Company.

TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY AT THE BIG TABERNACLE

Labor Organizations of the City Will Attend the Services Sunday Afternoon.

The observance of Tuberculosis Sunday by the labor and other organizations of this city on next Sunday afternoon in connection with the Men's Meeting at the Tabernacle, promises to be of great importance and a very pleasing feature of these interesting meetings. From present indications there will be large delegations present from the various labor organizations and fraternal societies of the city. Typographical Union No. 69, the Carpenters and Joiners and other organizations have voted to attend en masse and it is hoped that all other labor organizations will get in line. It is suggested that the labor organizations meet in their respective place of assembly on Sunday afternoon at 2:15 and be ready to march in a body to the tabernacle at 2:45. S. O. Riggs, who was made chairman of the committee of arrangements by the Typographical Union, would like to know not later than Saturday noon from the secretaries of the labor organizations about how many will be present from each body so that reservation of seats may be had for those in line. Mr. Riggs' telephone number is Automatic 8128, or he may be found at the American Tribune job department.

PIMPLES GO— BEAUTY COMES

You Just Can't Help Having a Beautiful Complexion If You Use Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Pimples! Horrors! And what a wonderful change when they are all gone. Most every one has noticed this.

Nowadays, when you see a real beauty, the chances are Stuart's Calcium Wafers wrought that wonderful change. It takes only a short time, even with very bad complexion—the kind that are disfigured with rash, eczema, boils, blotches and liver spots.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers cause the skin pores to breathe out impurities. The lungs burn up a great amount, but Nature imposes upon the skin the larger burden. Every tick of the clock means work, work for these wonderful wafers. And every instant new skin is forming, impurities become less and less, the pores are re-lavagated, and soon such a thing as a pimple, black-head or any other eruption is impossible. You marvel at the change. The soft, rosy tint tapers the cheeks; the neck, shoulders and arms show the health of youthful skin—in fact, you just can't help having a beautiful complexion if you use Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

They are put up in convenient form to carry with you, are very palatable, and are sold or druggists everywhere at 50 cents a box.

TRIUMPH GAINED THROUGH CONVICTION

Two hundred and fifty business men attended the noon luncheon at the First Presbyterian church today, prepared by the ladies of the East Main street M. E. church, and heard what is considered by many to be Dr. Lyon's supreme appeal to business men of a city. Dr. Lyon in his talk today brought many to an attitude of deep meditation on the spiritual side of life.

The meal today was served by the ladies of the East Newark M. E. church, and in the few minutes intervening between the close of the luncheon and the evangelist's address, some splendid choruses were sung with enthusiasm by the congregation of men.

A feature of today's service was the taking of a photograph of the men by a local photographer, copies of which will probably be placed on sale during the next few days.

Dr. Lyon's address was a fifteen minute discussion of "Triumph Through Subjection," in which he analyzed the factors in Jacob's life that gave him the victory at Jabbok's Ford. Beginning with a portrayal of Jacob's character, he said, "From his mother he had inherited a shrewd crafty nature that had been aggravated and intensified by her training. His character has been followed in all branches of modern business. If the highwayman with mask and pistol compels the traveler to hand over his valuables, public sentiment designates his deed as robbery, but when a speculator corners the market on some necessity and forces his fellow men to pay an exorbitant price, he is hailed as a Napoleon of finance."

The Crisis Comes. Sooner or later to every soul it is sure to come. Dark forebodings filled his mind, and he was left alone at the ford. The hours of solitude are those which are fraught with the greatest significance to the human heart. The fiercest conflicts are fought out alone.

Let us note some of the factors that entered into the struggle. First, there was pride. Humility is indeed a virtue difficult to grow in the soil of prosperity. Consciousness of strength is always apt to produce arrogance and egotism. No sin is harder to master than this.

"Deceit also was endeavoring to assert its supremacy. Deceit dislikes to admit its name. It is a pirate that sails under a false flag. Insincerity is surely the bane of modern social and commercial life. Like the worm hidden under the petals of the rose, so fraud lurks behind society's smile and the suave promise of 'get rich quick' finance."

Still another element in this conflict was covetousness. Pre-eminently it is prevalent in our day. Who has not felt the stirrings of such impulses in his own heart. Its virus is so infectious and universal that it paralyzes public opinion so that many who are bold in combating other evils are silent concerning this.

"Let us now note how the victory was won. The angel had to bring Jacob to the place of absolute helplessness and dependence. It is just at this point that so many, especially men, find difficulty in beginning the Christian life. They have been accustomed in other things to rely on themselves, and as a rule, the most self-reliant have been the most successful. But you cannot do that way when you deal with God." Spiritual success comes in submission to God; salvation follows surrender.

"There is still another step that must be taken before he can enter into possession of power. He must acknowledge his sinful condition."

Have You a Victory?

"Cannot each of us profitably stop to ask ourselves, before we leave this theme, Have I gained the victory at Jabbok's ford? Is there some point in my life at which I am saying, 'No to Christ? Has He laid to lay His hand heavily upon me, and bring me to the place of weakness? We may have wondered why there should come the ill health, the business adversity, the shattering of long cherished hopes, or the death of some loved one dearer than life itself. But as we look back across the years, we will see it was the only way the Lord could bring us to the place of complete dependence on divine strength, and instill within our souls a hunger for the life that is hid with Christ in God. Do not wait until some heavy blow falls upon your home, your business, or your health. Mead no previous engagement when Christ calls. Cease to struggle against His will. Yield to Jesus, your truest friend, and through submission you will come forth conqueror with the new name of Israel, imbued with power for service, a victor through obedience."

Dr. Lyon will deliver his final noon talk to the business men at noon tomorrow, when the ladies of the First Presbyterian church will have charge of the business men's luncheon.

The importance of this fact to the typewriter user lies in the expansion and development of Remington Service Efficiency.

The two factors of Remington Typewriter Supremacy are Quality and Service. The one goes with the sale; the other follows the sale. The one is in the machine; the other is back of the machine. And both are essential to the permanent satisfaction of the typewriter user.

The great expansion of the Remington Sales Organization has advanced our service facilities beyond any standard attained or attainable in the past. Remington Service was always supreme; it is now incomparably supreme. It goes everywhere and it covers everything. Whatever your need in the typewriter service line, whether ribbons, carbons, inspections, adjustments, rentals or operators, the means to supply that need are bound to be close at hand if your machine is a MONARCH, a SMITH PREMIER or a REMINGTON.

STATE DYE WORKS

61 NORTH FOURTH ST. BOTH PHONES, WAGON CALLS

TABERNACLE

(Continued from page 2.) live it independent of God. That also will spell defeat and disaster and destruction.

"There is only one course open to the courageous soul, and that is in the service of God, under definite auspices. This is essential, first of all for the sake of unity. You cannot imagine a railroad being run without a general superintendent. You cannot think of a successful campaign against an enemy without a commander or general. Neither can you imagine the kingdom of God without the great Leader, Jesus Christ. His only begotten Son. This is essential, not only for unity, but also for effectiveness, that is to be a true Christian soldier."

"What are some of the requirements?" the evangelist asked. "Obedience is essential," he declared, and brought the necessity of this factor home to his soldier audience by suggesting a case where a man would desire to enlist, shouting 'Hurrah for the flag' and telling how great a patriot he was, but he would insist on being allowed to escape sentry duty, would get three extra good meals every day, a proper place to sleep, and a place in which to fight, but which would still subject him to no danger.

"You would tell that fellow, 'Friend, we want men that will go anywhere that they are commanded to go,' wouldn't you," laughingly inquired the speaker, and from the ranks of the veterans came firm nods of approval of his reasoning.

"Friends, do you suppose then," continued Dr. Lyon, "that you can be in the service of the great commander Jesus Christ upon any lesser, easier terms?"

"Someone says, 'I will be a Christian if I can be a Christian in my own way.' Many people in a legal way want to form a limited partnership with God. You can't do the business of heaven that way."

"If you become a Christian, you have to do just as Grant asked of Buckner at Fort Donaldson, surrender unconditionally, and Jesus Christ will take nothing else."

"Don't try to make things easy. Oh, there have been some miserable cowards in this town that have said, 'I will be a Christian but I will not submit to the danger of ridicule by following before people and taking a stand for Christ.' When the early Christians, friends, were willing to be burned at the stake and cast into dungeons and dens of wild beasts, that one is not worthy to be in heaven with those martyrs that is not willing to go anywhere at any time to show his loyalty to the Son of God."

Discipline a Factor. "Not only must there be obedience but there must be discipline. Not what you want, but what God wants. If you believe it will please Jesus Christ to deny Him and respect Him, do it, but if you believe it will please Jesus Christ to have you take a definite stand for Christ, as you value your soul's salvation, do not pass out of this building into the night rejecting the Son of God."

"There must also be a definite enlistment," added the speaker. "You remember when you started out with your company for the war your neighbors called, 'Hurrah for the flag. We're for the army and for the difference in being for and being with' an army. There are many people that are being 'for religion,' for the Lord's cause, but it's another thing to be lined up definitely on the firing line."

Very dramatically, and with peculiar fascinating play of words that holds his audience spell-bound, Dr. Lyon described the enrollment of a company of young men from the class rooms of a Pennsylvania academy, showing the deftness of the act. "Friends," he commented, "God tonight in this aftermeeting is going to call the roll, as it were. Are you going to answer to your name. If you are to be a Christian, you have to enlist."

"A man says, 'Well, I go to church. I give to the church. I believe in Christ.' But that don't make you a Christian. Have you enlisted? A man might watch the soldiers on dress parade and drill. He might even talk with the captain, and give his substance to the furnishing and equipping of a regiment, but that isn't making a soldier of him. If he is to be a soldier, he will say, 'I will obey that commander; I will go where he wants me to go.'"

"If you are to be a child of God, a soldier of Jesus Christ, a citizen of the divine kingdom, you must definitely and positively enlist in the service of Christ. A good many of you men can tell exactly the day when you were enlisted in the army. Can you tell the date that you were enlisted in the army of Jesus Christ? I would that everyone in this building might be able to look back to some definite time of his spiritual birth, when you were born into the kingdom as a child of the Most High."

The "Empty Coat Sleeve." And then, as Dr. Lyon related another of his impassioned stories of General O. Howard, the hero of the empty coat sleeve, the eyes of the veterans filled with tears, impelled by their personal memory, in some cases, of the courageous Christian gentleman who was such a power for good in the ranks of the northern soldiers. One night General Howard was forced to remain outside of the lines until late and was accosted by a sentry. He had forgotten the countersign, but he recognized the voice of the sentry as that of a young man from his home town. He called the man by name and was admitted into the northern lines. He used the opportunity to call the sentry's attention to the fact that he needed to have the "countersign" that would admit him to heaven.

"The blood of Jesus Christ, the Son of God cleanse us from all sin."

"The young man, on the eve of the great battle of Gettysburg," said Dr. Lyon, "took Jesus as his personal Lord and Saviour. In that fiercely fought battle, and you men will bear me out that no man should have more credit than General O. Howard, a message came to him from the boy, wounded in the army hospital, 'Can you come to see me before I die?'"

"That man, after that fierce day's conflict, went to the hospital. He found the boy gasping for breath, and when General Howard stooped over his cot, there was a look of joy on that boy's face as he said, 'Praise God I am going to make my last report, and I can give the countersign.'"

"Men, are you able to sing that from your hearts, 'When the Roll is Called Up Yonder, I'll be There'?" demanded Dr. Lyon. "You there local to your country and your flag, and no one will go beyond the speaker in his praise of your heroism, but your good works, your wealth, family, and your education can't stand between you and the judgment. It is only the blood of Jesus Christ that can cleanse us from sin. Have you made that surrender? Have you yielded your life to Christ? If you have, oh, the joy of it." The speaker then referred to the pathetic sight of the returning northern soldiers as they marched down Pennsylvania avenue in Washington at the close of the war, and the song of praise that went up from a grateful nation.

Gives the Promise Eternal. "But, friends," he added, "that is nothing to the joy of that eternal victory, to hear from the lips of our King, 'You have fought a good fight. You have finished your course. You have kept your faith. Henceforth there is laid up for you a crown.'"

The speaker drew his closing lesson from the exile of forty Christian gladiators by a Roman emperor to the barren peaks of the Alps, from whence they were to be permitted to wander and starve to death unless they recanted their Christian vows. They were taken by a company of soldiers to the place of their exile and turned out into the bitter coldness of the night. All through the night their chant came ringing to the ears of the centurion. It said, 'Forty wrestlers, wrestling for Jesus; ask of Him the victory and claim for Him the crown.' Finally, the flap of the centurion's tent was drawn back and one shivering fellow asked for mercy and said that he recanted his vows. His lack of fidelity in the face of the courage of the other thirty-nine 'wrestlers' so impressed the Roman soldier that he took off his own coat, threw it over the unfaithful Christian and went out into the night to join the band of martyrs, that their chant of 'Forty wrestlers, wrestling for Jesus' might not be broken by the absence of one man.

"That's the kind of service I ask every man and woman and young person in this building to enlist in tonight—in the service of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the Prince Imperial of heaven."

Dr. Lyon's petition for a consecration of lives to the Master was impressive in its eloquence, yet so simple that it reached the hearts as well as the ears of everyone in the audience. The spirit of Christ was evidenced everywhere as Christian workers pleaded personally with individuals throughout the tabernacle, and before the final song of the service was sung forty-eight souls had been definitely recorded as children of the kingdom of heaven and loving advocates of all that makes for good in the lives of individuals and the community. There were several husbands and wives who came down the aisles, arm in arm, to accept the message of the Christ, while from the rows of gray-haired, dignified saviors of our national reputation there were a number of responses to the call for allegiance to an eternal Saviour and King.

CHRIST'S LESSON OF HUMILITY

Probably no afternoon discourse showed in such splendid manner his ability as a teacher of the gospel, as his discussion of the Master's washing the feet of the disciples, that scene that has been made the subject of one of the greatest paintings the world has ever seen. Filled with a deep appreciation of theological truths and inspired by his own belief in the Word, Dr. Lyon for half an hour held the attention of a small but faithful band of worshippers by his masterly weaving of the lesson that Christ intended to teach—that of humility, first, as well as the infinite affection and helpfulness of his ministry.

The opening service was enthusiastic in spite of a cold tabernacle, due to someone leaving some doors and windows open over night. Dr. Lyon promised, however, that this will be avoided after this. "A cold building and a poor sermon is too much for the average audience," he facetiously added. "We have some chance of changing the condition of the building." The revivalist preceded his sermon by an introductory discussion of the doctrine of the eternal atonement for sins past, and the resort to daily prayer as the means of "clearing up" the dust of each day's travel, taking up the thread of his teaching at the close of Mrs. Grace Powell's solo.

Are You a Minister? "The Christian Ministry" was the subject of Dr. Lyon's discussion, and impelled him to say, "It is interesting to note the great change that has come over people in their idea of those who are leaders in spiritual affairs. Formerly they were called 'parsons' (or persons); then they were called dominies, literally 'masters' of the community, but now they are called ministers. There has been an unreasonable limitation of this word to the ministry only of a specific class who have received an ordination from the hand of some leader or some bishop or some dignitary, or to those who have taken a theological course."

"In the scripture there was no such limitation made. I believe if Christ were to come back here to Newark and was going to get together a band of apostles, he would do just as he did centuries ago. He would probably take one man, a lawyer, another a physician, another a farmer, another man a blacksmith, and so on—he would take men from every walk and elevation of life. What would it mean if the Christian world would get that conception today of the Christian ministry? That just as Jesus chose every type and temperament, so any man with talents or strength or weakness shall be used in the building up of the kingdom of our Lord and Savior."

"Let us study this 13th chapter of John today," said Dr. Lyon, as he told of the time of the narrative—the time of the Passover feast—"Three millions of people had gathered at Jerusalem to observe what corresponds to our Fourth of July. It was a time especially for pomp, pleasure and politics. It seems to me our present period of political strife is very similar to that time, when ever man wanted to be supreme and each seemingly had some selfish scheme to work. It was a time that the people looked forward to, a sort of Vanity Fair, for merit, indulgence, ease and gratification of desires."

A Day of Fond Tackles. "They had forgotten the original idea of the Passover feast, as today our Thanksgiving Day is deteriorating into a season of fond tackles, both on the football field and at the table. Our Christmas has become, instead of a time for gospel meeting, for Jesus to be born in the Bethlehem of many a home, a time in the mere giving and receiving of presents—a holiday instead of a holy day. We must bear this in mind if we are to receive the truth of this lesson, for some of the most beautiful paintings have been sketched upon the darkest background."

Dr. Lyon also described the surroundings, the time of strife between the apostles as to which of them should be accorded the greatest. In addition to that, there was also the black treason of Judas, as he was plotting to deliver our Lord into the hands of his enemies.

"Let us note three points that are essential if you are to prepare for Christian service. Jesus knew that he came from God. He had the assurance of spiritual heredity. Why is it that so many members of our churches are not effective as soul winners? It is because they are not sure of their own salvation. They have simply a hope of a hope. It is not until you know what you have believed, it is not until you have the witness of God's spirit in your heart that you are his child, until you are sure, beyond the peradventure of a doubt, that you have been born from above, born again, born of the spirit—that you can be effective in Christian service. You have to know where you came from. As the German 'Sprichwort' says, 'Was ist nicht in ein Mann kann nicht be rauskommen'—'what is not in a man cannot come out of him.'"

The evangelist then countered the argument that the Bible suggested "work out your own salvation," by referring to the following verse, which says, "For it is God that worketh in you." "You cannot work it out until God is worked in," he said. "That's the trouble with our Sunday school teachers. Friends, if you are to be used in Christian ministry, and I speak of this not in a limited sense, you must have God's spirit in you. You are a Christian minister whether you are in a pulpit or in the pew, and if you are not, God have mercy on your soul."

Spiritual Futurity, Too.

"This must begin with the realization that you are a child of God, that sins are forgiven, and that there was spiritual heredity. And not only this, but also the second point, of hereditary futurity. He knew that he was going to God."

"If you have the assurance today that someone is leaving you ten millions of dollars, you won't worry much over your losing a deal in which you expect to make $1.50. If you have been selected as ambassador to the court of St. James or some other great place in our nation, it isn't going to trouble you if you lose a $2 a day job. If you are a child of God, an heir of God here and joint heir with Jesus Christ hereafter, you are not going to worry about what people say about you. It isn't going to disturb you if this one or that one makes those slurs and slanders."

If you know you have a mansion not made by hands awaiting you, are not going to worry about fine houses on this earth. You have to be gripped with the great assurance that you are going somewhere. When you have that assurance, then the pin pricks of the passing moment, the thorns of the flesh, are not going to disturb your equanimity, and you are going on your way to God.

"Not only spiritual heredity and spiritual futurity," continued the speaker, "but also the assurance of spiritual power. What is the great teaching of Easter? That Jesus rose. There's something greater than that. It is the same power that brought Christ back from the grave when you accept Jesus as your Saviour, you are living on a resurrection ground, that you hitch your chariot to your soul to omnipotence, that that power will also work in your life and bring you out from the grave of the sins of the past and plant your feet on the rock, and put a new song in your mouth."

The Spiritual Dyspeptic. "It isn't until you have the power within your heart, the stirring of that divine dynamic, that you can ever be a power in Christian ministry. God deliver us from people that arise in prayer meeting with that dyspeptic, long faced air, and say, 'I have been trying to serve God for forty years in my poor weak way.' You should be a giant in God's strength, not you own."

"What do we mean by spiritual fullness?" asked the speaker. "It means merely that fullness that recognizes that God and you are working together in the accomplishments of results. This is the very heart of Christian power; that you have to know that you are from God, that you are going to God and that your citizenship and power comes from God."

"What is the result of all this?"

When you have that kind of preparation, what elements are going to be evident in your life? First, the element of humility," declared the evangelist, as he quoted verses telling of Christ's taking of a towel and washing the feet of his disciples. "Why didn't he take a sword? Many a man that can wield a sword cannot even touch the border of a towel. We take the sword to gain our rights. We take the towel to fulfill our duties. A man of pride, arrogance, selfishness can take the sword, but only a life of unselfishness and consecration to service can take a towel."

"Christ's idea was that the great man was the man that gave his life in loving service unto others with a spirit of humility," he added, as he told of how his faculty in an Iowa college served a Senior banquet one year after the Junior class had proudly refused to serve. There was no trouble of that sort the next year—the under classmen had learned their lesson of humility. "Peter never forgot the lesson of that night," said the speaker, as he traced through the epistle of the apostle references to the 'towel' and to the washing away of the dust of travel by the Master on that night that had so indelibly impressed itself on his mind.

"My friends, have you taken the towel?" questioned the speaker.

"But there must also be the element of affection. There must be some supreme motive in every life. With the average individual that is self. It is getting as much as become a Christian, love of self must be succeeded by love of Christ. How are we to draw people away from their own desires, ambitions and selves? We have to instill in them a love for a personal Christ, and when that love burns with a consuming fire on the altar of your soul, there is going to be a spirit of service and sacrifice for others. You will love people because Jesus loves them, and you won't care very much whether they appreciate you or if they don't, whether they flatter or whether they condemn. You play right ahead because you are inspired and strengthened by the love of Jesus Christ."

Salvation a Fire Escape.

"There must be the spirit of helpfulness," added the speaker. "Humility, affection and helpfulness. Did it ever occur to you that the average church member does very little for Jesus. Suppose a business man did no more for his business than the average church member does for Jesus. He would be bankrupt inside of sixty days. There is a large share of your church members that never have put forth an earnest, honest effort to bring a soul to Jesus Christ. Their idea of religion is merely to accept Jesus as a Savior from sin—merely salvation as a fire escape."

"Now mark you," commented the speaker, "when he comes to Judas, I believe that even then Jesus was hoping that that would be the effort that would bring back Judas to himself. There was Iscariot, who had already been out plotting to betray the Son of God, Jesus said 'I am going to put infinite affection into this act.' See him as he gets down and washes the feet of the traitor? Can you get a higher conception of the love of God than that? In spite of all that, Judas went out and betrayed him. If it is a sad thing to sin against life, it is a sadder thing to sin against love."

Dr. Lyon's sermon closed with the story of the regeneration, through the influence of one persistent Christian, of a man who had spent years in drunkenness and vice. Formerly a prominent physician, he had taken to drink, and finally a drug clerk, trying to play a joke on him, had given him a glass of fluid used to dehorn cattle and told him it was "whiskey. The physician drank it, and the fluid so affected the muscles and tissues of his throat that he was unable to take any solid food. He was brought to an evangelistic meeting conducted by Dr. Lyon, professed salvation, and was taken to the home of the man who had brought about his conversion. Fed, clothed and given medical and spiritual attention for weeks, he finally became the man he had been years before, was united with his family and became a powerful worker in the cause of Christ. "Friends," concluded the evangelist, "let me tell you, there's nothing on earth that pays such big returns as the time and thought and strength invested in Christian ministry. 'If ye know them,' says the Master, as he bids us to go our into his ministry and bring others to a recognition of his power to save from sin."

Dr. Lyon's closing prayer was for the forgiveness of the sin of laziness and excessive dignity and stubbornness, and a petition for grace that will bring others to a recognition of the Saviour.

High School To Organize.

Prof. R. E. Mitchell and Mrs. Frances Allison yesterday addressed the students of the High School who have accepted Christ, and formulated plans for the organization of "White Button Brigades," which will eventually include, it is hoped, every boy and girl in the local schools. The boys will meet at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon for the organization of their brigade and election of officers, while the girls will meet Mrs. Allison again this afternoon and carry out their plans. Mrs. Allison is also interesting these girls in Bible study work and will leave with these students some outline studies in chapter work which should do much in making effectual Christian workers of them.

Has a Sad Duty.

Word was received here last night that Fred Hazen, superintendent of the tabernacle and in charge of book sales for the Lyon party, will have the sad duty of burying his mother today—on the "Mother's Day" of the Lyon campaign. The interment is to take place at East Palestine, where Mrs. Hazen succumbed to an attack of paralysis on last Tuesday afternoon. Fred is expected to return to Newark, with his wife, the early part of next week, to identify himself with the closing activities of the campaign.

CASE TAKEN FROM JURY BY JUDGE

Ohio Electric Railway Wins in Suit Brought By Newark Telephone Co.—Court House News.

On the convening of court Thursday morning the court and jury resumed the trial of the case of the Newark Telephone Company against the Ohio Electric Railway Company, the question involved being a claim for damages in the sum of $700, growing out of the feed wire of defendant dropping upon a guy wire of plaintiff company and sending the railway company's electric current into the telephone system. The court held that there was contributory negligence on the part of the telephone company in placing the guy wire where it did, and having the means by which it could obtain knowledge of the dangerous position of the feed wire of the railway company. The court sustained a motion to arrest the testimony from the jury and direct a verdict for the railway company.

The case will be taken to the circuit court on a petition in error. Fox Green vs. Jacob M. Friddle, a suit brought to recover damages arising from the sale of sheep which were claimed to have had hoof rot. The parties got together and settled their differences out of court.

Mary E. Lyons administrator, vs. J. F. Lock, for trial Friday. A suit on a promissory note, the execution of which is denied.

Ross Boyer vs. W. B. Parker, for trial Wednesday next. C. L. V. Holtz, treasurer, etc., vs. Wallace Moars, et al., decree for plaintiff for $334.50.

The jurors failed to agree upon a verdict in the case of J. D. Keeley vs. Jesse McCray and were discharged from further consideration of the matter on Wednesday morning. Plaintiff sued to recover on a contract for the construction of a motor boat at Buckeye Lake.

Wife Used Broom Handle and Hubby He says that she has been extremely cruel, that she has beaten and scratched him, that she has struck him over the head with a broom handle "raising large lumps thereon," and that he is afraid to occupy the same room with her.

"He" is Alex. Bole, and the defendant in the divorce action which he filed in probate court this morning, is Mary Vile, Bole, whom he married on August 3, 1912.

In addition to the above the plaintiff alleges that his wife has said that she does not care for him any more and that she will live with him no longer.

In view of all this, through his attorney, J. W. Horner, he prays the court to grant him a decree for divorce.

Appointed Guardian. On Thursday afternoon Edward Kibler, Jr., was appointed guardian of Carl Ward, a minor. The guardian's bond was set at $5,000.

Divorce Petition. The divorce matter of Emma A. Joiner vs. Royal J. Joiner was heard in probate court Thursday morning. The plaintiff sought divorce on the grounds of gross neglect and willful absence. After hearing the testimony of five witnesses, the court held the matter up for further consideration. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney Eugene Moore.

Sues City for Damages. Silas F. Fowler, by his attorneys, Smythe and Smythe, has filed a suit for damages in common pleas court praying judgment against the city of Newark in the sum of $2,000.

The plaintiff alleges that the faulty construction of a sewer, of Calverly street in this city has caused the water to back up and flood his premises, covering his lot, ruining pavements and making his home an unhealthy place.

The plaintiff avers that he has applied to the proper authorities of the municipality to have the trouble abated but that no relief has been accorded him.

Appraisers' Report. In the matter of the Newark Gearwood company vs. The Newark Trust company, an inventory and appraisalment and the report of the receiver, W. C. Christian, have been filed with the clerk of courts.

The appraisers are George L. Smith, John L. Nutter and Henry R. Schendler. Their appraisalment values the real estate of the concern at $5,500 and the personal property at $5,514.92, making a total of $11,014.92.

MOTHER AT TEN IS THE RECORD OF OHIO GIRL

The annual report of the state bureau of vital statistics Wednesday shows that in 1910 there were 100,969 children born in Ohio, 51,303 male and 49,666 females. Of these 2480 were twins and 42 triplets.

The highest birth rate was in Lawrence county, 28 per 1000 population, and the lowest in Lake county, 14 per 1000. A total of 1,975 illegitimate births were recorded.

One girl became a mother at 10, eight at 13 and 36 at 14. One birth was recorded where the mother was 59 years of age.

Cleveland reported 13,596 births, Cincinnati 1093, Columbus 3281, Toledo 3289 and Akron 1722.

During the year there were 65,332 deaths, an increase of 5000 over 1909. Tuberculosis carried away the most, 7179; heart disease 6030, cancer 3620, and typhoid fever 1327.

Railroad accidents resulted in 982 deaths, electric railway accidents 203. Just 686 persons committed suicide, poison being the most common means employed; 226 persons were murdered, and 89 were killed in auto accidents.

Death claimed 11,463 children before they were a year old, and 15,984 before they were 5. The most fatal period for adults was between 70 and 74 years of age, 4886 passing away at that period of their lives.

FURTHER DETAILS OF CAPITULATION

Vera Cruz, Oct. 24.—The city is rapidly regaining its normal aspect. The police service was resumed today and within two days the railroads will be operating on regular schedules.

According to further details of the taking of the city by the federal troops, two hours after the city had fallen, General Tapia with a small body of men encountered rebel outposts which had been stationed in a southern suburb. He engaged with and defeated them. In the meantime Colonel Joseph Diaz Ordaz and other rebel forces had escaped.

Only nine of them were captured with General Felix Diaz. There is much recognition, publicly, of the services rendered by the United States consul and the captain of the United States cruiser Des Moines, in the protection of foreigners and their interests.

VISCOUNT PEEL DEAD.

London, Oct. 24.—Viscount Peel, speaker of the House of Commons from 1884 to 1895, and chairman of the British commission of the St. Louis exposition, died today at the age of 83 years.

Science Aided By Skill

Good dentistry is not learned in a day. It requires study, for it is a science; it requires skill—experience.

Our long experience in this community, our success in every kind of dental work is our best recommendation to those whose teeth are in need of attention.

We make our own vitalized air fresh daily; our instruments are sterilized every time used; Nothing in dentistry too difficult for us.

There Are Two Good Reason Why We Should Have Your Business.

FIRST—Our association is not established for profit but for the mutual benefit of its members. Its earnings after actual expenses are paid are divided pro-rata among its members.

SECOND—We protect our members savings by only loaning money on real estate after the property has been inspected by three members of our board of directors and has been approved by the Board. As a further precaution after the property has been appraised at its actual valuation only two-thirds of the amount is loaned to take care of any possible shrinkage.
